Unique terroir of the Taman peninsula

HERE, WIND, SUN, AND SEA WORK TOGETHER,
CREATING A NATURAL
BALANCE — THE
FOUNDATION OF THE
UNIQUE TASTE AND CHARACTER OF THE WINE.

The vineyards of Kuban-Vino are located on the Taman Peninsula, where nature has created a rare combination of factors that give the wine its exceptional character.

Unique terroir

— TAMAN PENINSULA

Terroir: Tamagne peninsula

THE PENINSULA’S LANDS ARE WASHED BY:

Black Sea — to the south (deep, salty, never freezes).
Sea of Azov — to the north (shallow, often freezes, low salinity).
Taman Bay — to the west (freshened, with many freshwater springs).

41,000 HA — TYPICAL CHERNOZEM SOILS

The soils are rich in organic matter, retain heat and moisture well, ensuring healthy vine development. The region’s soils have low erosion and good water permeability.

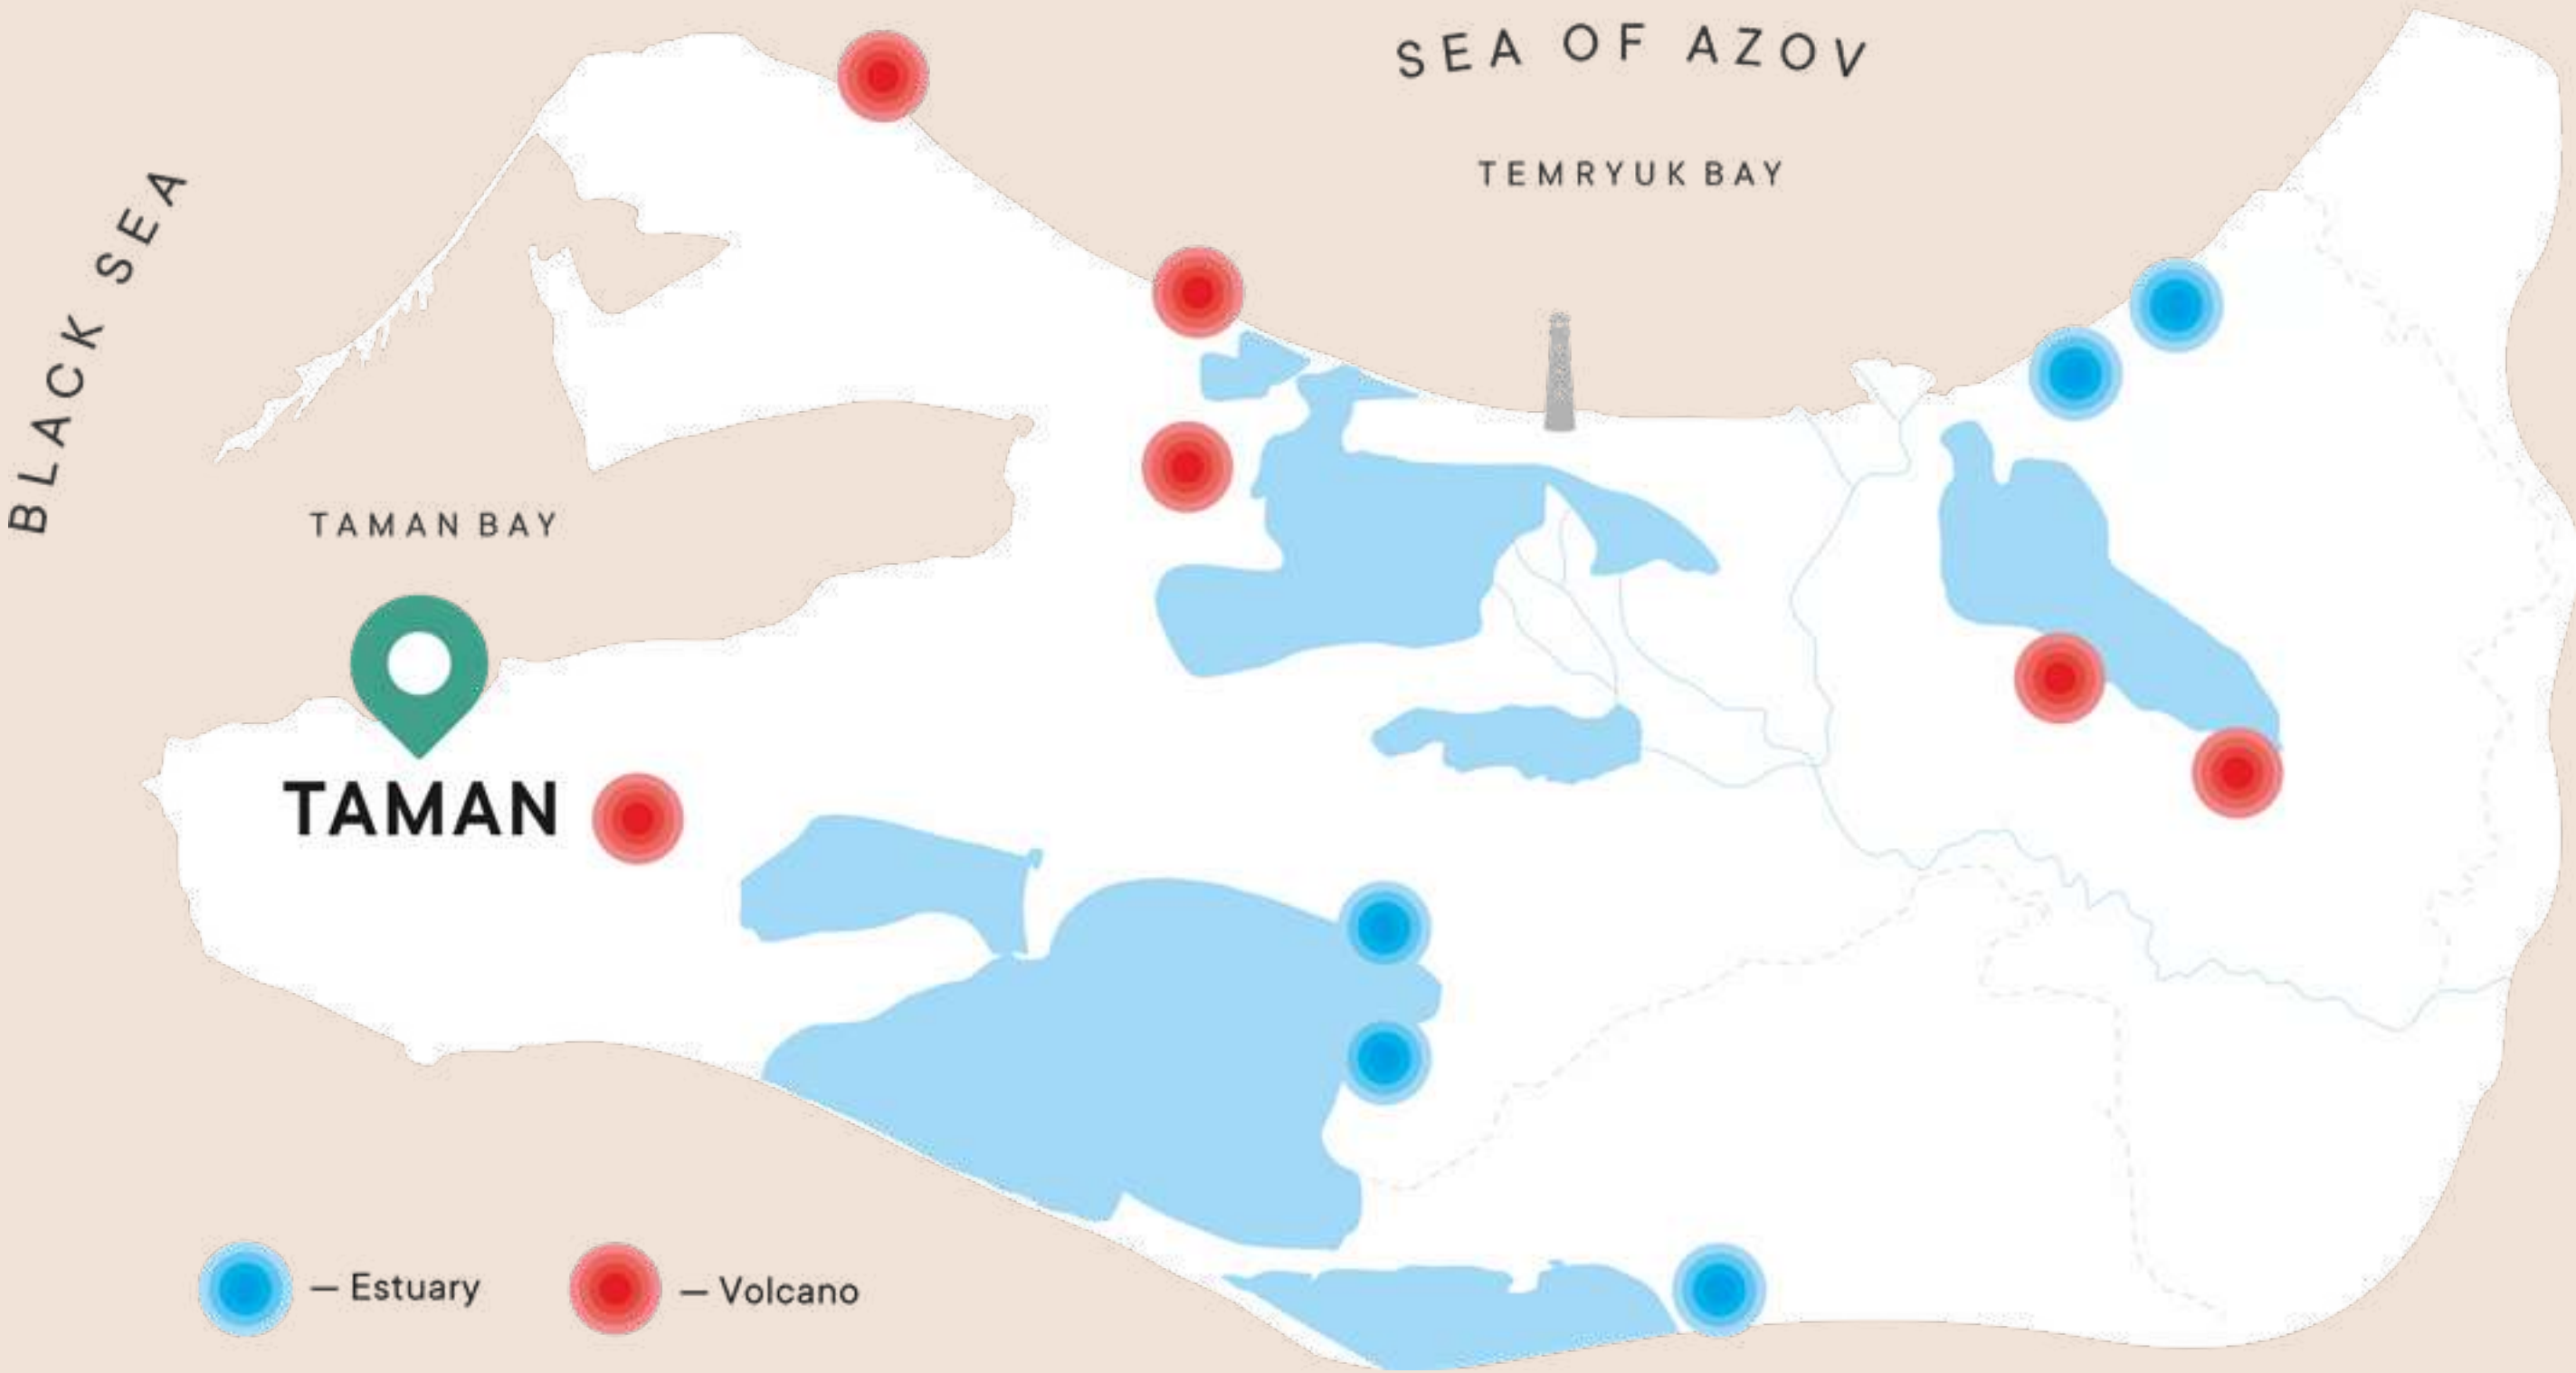

VOLCANOES

Mud volcanoes (geologically — pseudovolcanoes). Volcanic clay gives local wines a unique mineral nuance.

60% OF THE LAND IS COVERED WITH LIMANS

Liman lakes create unique ecosystems and help moderate the region’s climate. They play a key role in maintaining soil humidity and temperature.

Unique terroir of the taman peninsula

Two seas — the Black Sea and the Sea of Azov — border the peninsula on both sides. During the day, warm, humid breezes from the Black Sea bring the scent of salt and sun, while at night, cool winds from the Sea of Azov lower temperatures, creating natural temperature contrasts and slowing grape ripening. This day-to-night temperature variation allows grapes to maintain freshness, acidity, and richness of aroma.
